As partner of the European RegEnergy project, Brest métropole will host the project's final conference on 18th May 2022, labelled French Presidency of the European Union in Océanopolis, Brest (France).

RegEnergy, led by Climate Alliance, brings together 9 partners from 7 countries in North-West Europe and addresses the issue of renewable energy development through urban/rural cooperation.

The conference will focus on how to reinforce the territorial cooperation to achieve a successful energy transition and will showcase the results achieved by the European partnership. The complementarity between the European level and the national, regional and local levels will be illustrated through concrete examples and feedbacks.

With the objective to discover innovative solutions and case studies for an efficient energy transition, a focus will be dedicated to the link between the involvement of local authorities and citizens' engagement with renewable energy projects.
